Republican Governors In St. Louis

Prepare Statement Of Policy They Believe Necessary In Post-War Plans

By Jack Bell

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 3—(AP)—The 26 Republican governors charged today that the New Deal's handling of war-related problems on the home front invites "national disaster," asserting in a policy statement that "The great problem of peacetime jobs can be adequately met only by private business under an enterprise system."

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 3—(AP)—Republican governors headed by presidential nominee Thomas E. Dewey called today for prompt postwar contract termination in order to speed reconversion of industry to peacetime pursuits when hostilities cease.

In a six point statement of policy, the 26 Republican governors said "The states must share leadership to encourage commerce, industry and agriculture in order to stimulate full employment at good wages and the profitable use of all our production facilities," as soon as the war ends.

In other recommendations, the governors said:

1. The acquisition of land by the federal government may result in threatening "seriously the very existence of many of our states and the loss of local self government to millions of free American citizens."

2. That war veterans be permitted to sit down and talk over future job plans "with someone at home who can tell him where to find all the benefits and services that are available to him. . . . . from federal, state and local governments or through private endeavors."

3. That state governments "should recognize their responsibilities and use their reserves before asking federal aid on state public works.

4. That the present cooperation between federal and state governments in the construction of highways be continued but that federal gasoline and motor vehicle taxes be distributed equitably among the states.

5. That the national guard remain both as a state force and a reserve component of the army of the United States.

6. That surplus of war materials be distributed through normal channels of trade in connection with the reconversion program and that such distribution be primarily through state agencies.

Studying Other Subjects

The six points covered by the governors represented less than half of the subjects they expect to incude in a major policy statement upon which the group is continuing work today.

Dewey said previously that he hoped this policy statement would provide solutions for the "friction" which he said had developed between the states and the federal government.

In their statement on reconversion, the governors said that "great problem of permanent peacetime jobs can be adequately met only by private business under an enterprise system."

Surprise Gift From Son Returned From Duty Overseas

A gift of one and one-half dozen American Beaty roses with no sender's name attacked pleasantly surprised and puzzled Mrs. L. E. Hyatt Friday when they arrived at her home, 319 North Prospect avenue.

Identity of the sender was clarified, however, when she received a phone call from her son, Robert E. Hyatt, ARM 1/c of the Navy Air Corps, who had just arrived in San Jose, Calif., from duty overseas. He expects to be home soon.

Nazis' 'Great Retreat' May Now be Underway in France

By Dewitt Mackenzie
Associated Press War Analyst

The Anglo-American Allies continued to tear into the badly mauled and disorganized Nazi ranks on the invasion front of France, and a late dispatch from British headquarters in Normandy says this is the beginning of "the great retreat."

That may well be so. The cold fact is the Germans are up against an overwhelming strength in both men and material which have been poured through the bloody beachheads of Normandy.

Hitler's fighting machine in France is beginning to break up, just as it is doing on the eastern front.

The British prime minister yesterday said truly that "it is the Russian army that has done the main work of tearing the guts out of the German army." But while the fighting in France never will reach the monumental scale of the Russo-Nazi war, the western Allies also are about to give a fearsome exhibition of ripping out what Mr. Churchill said.

On to Paris

If the Americans succeed in cutting off the Brest peninsula and capturing the great port of Brest—and today's reports indicate smashing progress—it will provide harbor and rail facilities which will add much to the Allied striking power. However, Cherbourg can fill the bill for the time being without Brest, and we may expect that there will be no delay in pressing the drive on Paris, for the Canadians and British are destroying the Nazi right wing and the center in the Vire sector while the Yanks race into Brittany on the other flank.

Truly Hitler's pagan gods have deserted him. At last he's feeling the mighty weight of the Allied vise.

Germans Outnumbered

At latest reports the Germans had on the Normandy front a total of 28 divisions of various categories, including four Panzer units and some infantry divisions which are partly armored. Thirteen of these divisions have been on the British sector and fifteen on the American. It's impossible to estimate accurately the number of troops involved, because many divisions are under normal quota. Perhaps there has been a minimum of a quarter million men.

The Hitlerites claim that the Allies have fifty divisions in Normandy. If that's so it might mean close to 700,000 men. When you consider that the Germans have only about 65 divisions in western Europe, Hitler's problem becomes

Resigns From Committee

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3— (AP) — Over the protest of committee colleagues Chairman Truman (D-Mo) resigned today from the senate war investigating committee.

Simultaneously with Truman's action, Hugh Fulton turned in his resignation as chief counsel of the group.

Truman said both Republicans and Democrats on the committee urged him to remain as chairman at a 40-minute closed meeting this morning but that he told them "It would not be fair to the committee, because everything I would say might be construed as political, in view of my candidacy for the vice presidency.'

The Democratic vice presidential nominee made public a letter to Vice President Wallace, as president of the senate, asserting "I do not want even the shadow of suspicion that the committee's activities in any way are determined or influenced by political considerations."

Truman said the committee would meet again tomorrow to choose a new chairman.

Senator Hatch (D-NM) and Mead (D-NY) have been most frequently mentioned as possible successors to the chairmanship.

George L. Craig, federal alcohol tax unit investigator, said he found "about one quart of colored moonshine whisky in a gallon jug" and nine gallons of uncolored moonshine when McClain's home at the edge of Sedalia was searched Monday.

Statement by Bennett Clark On His Defeat

Greater St. Louis Chairman of CIO Has Sharp Reply

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 3—(AP)—Latest returns in Tuesday's primary:

Democratic senator: 4,371 of 4,519 precincts, Clark 147,702, McKittrick 168,562.

Republican senator: 4,095 of 4,519 precincts, Donnell 132,901; Grosby 2,756, Noell 13,928, Rendlen 18,799, Shaw 41,671, Stephens 60,633, Thomas 4,407.

Democratic governor: 4,264 of 4,519 precincts, Donnelly 141,628, Lee 19,918, Sermon 95,415, Shook 57,818.

Republican governor: 4,103 of 4,519 precincts, Bradshaw 133,716; Ferguson 116,470, Stewart 34,948.

Clark conceded his defeat late yesterday in a statement blaming the CIO political action committee.

The statement:

"I cheerfully accept the verdict of the polls. No man should ever offer himself for a political office unless he is prepared to stand on his record and accept defeat if it should come to him. . . . I have confidence that the long range view of the people of Missouri—when the hysteria of war has passed — will not be unfavorable to my record in the senate. I am perfectly willing to take a chance on the long pull so far as my reputation is concerned.

"The election represents a notable temporary triumph for the Communist controlled CIO in its efforts to take control of the Democratic party.

Fight Not Conclusive

"That fight, however, is not conclusive. It is just starting. I am very happy that I carried the bona fide Democratic counties of rural Missouri with whom I have been associated so long. The people of rural Missouri were alert—like the minute men of Revolutionary fame — to the menace of the CIO. It behooves the people of St. Louis and St. Louis county to become similarly minded."

"I am grateful to the people of Missouri for the opportunity of serving them in the senate of the United States in times of great stress for twelve long years."

Answering Clark, Richard Brazier, greater St. Louis chairman of CIO-PAC, said in a statement:

"In the bitter of defeat, Senator Clark has apparently tor noff the mask of support for President Roosevelt's progressive policies which he donned for the campaign. He reveals himself as a Missouri edition of Martin Dies, Burton K. Wheeler and Hamilton Fish.

No Personal Attack

"We made no personal attack on Clark during the campaign. It is regrettable that he should feel impelled to attack us. The American men and women who make up CIO, along with other Americans, will resent this malicious attempt to smear this organization.

"Of course the defeated candidate gives us too much credit. The political action committee was only one horse in the McKittrick team. Nor do we wish to take over the reins of any political party and we could not do so if we would.

"The Democratic nominee for senator in Missouri is Roy McKittrick because a majority of Missourians, voting in the Democratic primary, along with most Americans, are fed up with obstructionism. They want a senator who will lend a hand to President Roosevelt to win the war promptly, assure a lasting peace and carry out a postwar program for jobs,

Russians Shell German Soil; Bradley's Forces Take Rennes

'Hitting the Hun A Good Crack," According to Gen. Sir Montgomery

By Gladwin Hill

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, Aug. 3—(AP)—In the greatest victory since Cherbourg American troops whirling through Brittany have captured and passed beyond Rennes and have reached Dinan, one-fourth of the way to Brest from Avranches.

Fall of Rennes, a hub of 11 highways and four railways almost in the center of the peninsula, severed the Germans' main communications in Brittany.

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, Aug. 3— (AP) —Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley's armored columns, pressing at burning speed into the heart of Brittany, have captured Rennes after a two-day advance which carried them 45 miles from Avranches.

The Americans were pushing swiftly toward their old World War I base of St. Nazaire, 80 miles beyond Rennes, which is almost in the center of the Breton peninsula. Other west bound columns were reported in the outskirts of Dinan, after an advance of 35 miles from Avranches.

Bradley's forces thus had opened a wedge 30 miles deep and 35 miles broad in the heart of Brittany in a series of open field dashes.

Everywhere along a 120-mile front British and Americans were stabbing with manifold thrusts into the flanks of a seemingly bewildered enemy. Canadian troops struck out with a new attack below Caen which imperiled the whole Nazi defense in western France.

With the Allied bag of German prisoners taken since D-day approaching 100,000, Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, commander of Allied ground forces in France, told the Associated Press at the front:

"We are hitting the Hun a good crack."

Bypass St. Malo

St. Malo, a highly important port across the Bay of St. Michel from Normandy, apparently was being bypassed by the rampaging American columns which had turned the corner into Brittany.

Dinan is 13 miles south of St. Malo and 100 miles east of the great port of Brest at Brittany's tip.

Rennes, central communications point of Brittany, is but 80 miles north of Brittany's second port, St. Nazaire, at the mouth of the Loire river, and near the center of the peninsula.

Dinan is 25 miles beyond Pontorson, last officially reported position of the west bound lancehead.

The Americans reached the outskirts of Rennes last night, a field dispatch announced. Dol de Bretagne, 14 miles east of Dinan, was captured yesterday.

Lashing out with a new attack, supported by another of the Allies' smashing aerial and artillery bombardments which saturated the area of attack with steel and fire, Canadian troops struck in the Tilly-le-Campagne area below Caen.

This offensive intensified the danger to German troops holding stubbornly to the granite hills and forest lands which they have turned into a huge anti-tank area as the keystone of their defenses.

It is in this area that British staff officers said yesterday the Germans must stand and fight with the prospect of being destroyed.

MADRID, Aug. 3 — (AP) — Nazi propaganda has taken the line that retreating German armies will go over to the offensive by September with new secret weapons now being developed.

British-American Forces or Russia May Take Surrender

By John M. Hightower

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Plans for immediate follow-up of the surrender or collapse of Germany are reported here to have been worked out in great detail.

Officials familiar with their provisions said today that they call for full cooperation among the United States, Britain and Russia in the hour of victory.

For this reason, and because of the general pledges of cooperation made at the Moscow and Teheran conferences last year, American officials say they are convinced beyond any doubt that it makes no difference whether Russian or Anglo-American forces get to Berlin first, or which first accepts a major German army surrender.

Early victory forecasts by Prime Minister Churchill yesterday brought a renewed wave of speculation here over what will happen if the Germans surrender first to the Russians, or what difference it will make if they give up instead to British-American forces. The answer given to both questions in official quarters here is:

It will not make any difference. ....either side will make a "separate peace." Either side will accept Germany's unconditional surrender at any time or place—accept it in the name of all the Allied powers.

Cooperation Plans

The European advisory commission of British, American and Soviet representatives was assigned the task of working out plans for military and political cooperation when Germany folds up. The commission has completed its work.

The plans cover two distinct periods:

1. The end of organized resistance. This may cover several days or even weeks or may come as a single orderly surrender. The enemy's eastern front might collapse and the Russians march through to Berlin while British, American and Allied troops were still fighting their way forward to Berlin.

2. Occupation. This provides for three-way occupation of Germany by British, Russian and American troops, joint occupation of Berlin, creation of a joint military commission to administer the country and means of getting civil authorities function again. Completion of the task of disarming Germany, including destruction or conversion of its armament factories, is called for.

Ten men repairing bomb damage were killed by a robot in their billet next door to a mortuary containing victims of an earlier explosion. Eight others were killed when a group of houses was wrecked, adding to the 817,000 buildings destroyed or damaged since the attacks started June 15.

Some Americans joined in the defense shooting in south England during the night.

Americans are Tightening Grip on Guam

Enemy Has Made Sharp Gains in Offensive in China

By J. B. Krueger
Associated Press War Editor

Americans tightening the noose on some 10,000 Japanese pressed into the northern third of Guam have seized another airfield, bringing to seven the nest of Marianas dromes from which U. S. Aerial might may soon strike into Japan's vitals from the Pacific.

Army and Marine troops, killing seven enemy soldiers for every one they lost, pushed tirelessly forward agaist rising resistance. But the end of the enemy seemed as sure as on conquered Tinian, where all but a handful of Japanese, hiding in caves, were accounted for.

Tinian's Japanese civilians streamed willingly out of caves to surrender.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced his forces had killed about 33,000 on Guam, Tinian and Saipan, against a loss of 3,589 American dead, 17,548 wounded and 1,550 missing.

Battle for Warsaw In Fourth Day of Slow, Bitter Fighting On 20-Mile Front

MOSCOW, Aug. 3 — (AP) — Fighting raged within three miles of the East Prussian border today as Gen. Ivan Cherniakhovsky's third White Russian army surged forward in a determined drive from captured Dydvizhe which promised momentarily to carry the war to German soil.

Russian armor charged savagely upon German defenses before the East Prussian border cities of Schirwindt, Eydtkuhnen and Wehrkirchen.

Russian cannon shelled German soil.

Cherniakhovsky's forces swirled to within 25 miles of Tilsit and 44 of Insterbourg, important East Prussian rail cities. Konigsberg, East Prussian capital and 18th largest German city of 368,423, was 93 miles away. Five railroads meet at Insterburg, site of iron, machine tool and tile factories.

Front dispatches declared fighting raged near Virbalis and Wizainy, both three miles from the frontier.

While the campaign for East Prussia was intensified, the battle for Warsaw entered its fourth day of slow, bitter slugging on a 20-mile front involving the eastern suburbs of the Polish capital.

The Germans clung to a line of fixed fortifications ringing the burning city and the industrial suburb of Praga, on the east bank of the broad and swift Vistula, against massed bombardment coming from the ground and sky. (The exiled Polish government in London said 25,000 Polish underground fighters continued a "hard and grim" battle against the Germans in the streets of the capital).

Bridgeheads Established

(The Germans said two bridgeheads had been established in the Deblin area, 60 miles to the southeast and a third in the area 120 miles below the capital.)

Behind the Russian lines and ten-mile wide corridor thrust to the Baltic sea west of Riga, four Russian army groups gnawed at the trapped thousands of Germans in Latvia and Estonia. (Prime Minister Churchill said from 20 to 30 divisions were cut off, a total of perhaps 200,000 to 300,000 men).

The Russians were 25 miles west of Riga and less than 20 miles to the southwest and closing in on all sides. A 28-mile advance from Pskov carried the Red army to the outskirts of Aluksne (Marienburg). (The Germans said 19 fresh Russian divisions were attacking in the 30-mile corridor between Lake Peipus and the Gulf of Finland west of Narva, in a region less than 95 miles from the Estonian capital of Tallinn).

doubly clear, for he has many points to protect against further Allied invasions.

The American drive into Brittany is eased greatly by the fact that the Germans had to withdraw forces from there to meet the Allied onslaught in Normandy. This withdrawal also lessens the danger of a heavy German counter attack from Brittany against the Allies right wing now emerging from Normandy.

GIRL SCOUT V

The Sedalia Girl Scout Day camp with an average daily attendance of 105 children was a great success. Mrs. A. A. Studebaker, commissioner, has only the warmest praise for Mrs. Harry N. Lambirth, camp director; Mrs. P. Cecil Owen, assistant; Mrs. Cecil Glenn, Mrs. G. W. Anderson, Mrs. J. W. Leftwich and Miss La Vonne Wright, camp counsellors. The untiring efforts of these women, assisted by council members, leaders and troop mothers made the Day Camp of 1944 a memorable event in the lives of these young campers.

The Girl Scouts expressed their thanks by turning in the largest fat collection (1,265 pounds) since their first collection in June, 1943, when the OCD asked them to be responsible for this important work.

Mrs. Owen, in charge of Unit 4, set up a model troop camp for the week. Party night was well attended by the parents and friends of the girls. The girls gathered around the campfire in a wishing ring and gave a short program. Mrs. C. A. Wright, regional camp visitor of this area, checked the health and safety standards of the camp.

The Sedalia Water Co. sent out fresh water daily in sterilized cans provided by Swift & Co. The Earl Wingate family, camp neighbors, were helpful in many ways.

Boy Scout troop 54 with its scoutmaster, Harry Lambirth were on hand all week to help in any way necessary.

A new supply of flat lustro-lace and belt-blox has been received in the office this week. Office second floor of the court house, office hours Monday, Thursday and Saturday morning; Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday afternoon.

Will Collect Milkweed Pods

The Girl Scouts will be happy to cooperate in the collection of milkweed pods to be used in the making of "Mae Wests" (life preservers) for the United States armed forces. The Girl Scouts will mobilize at a downtown point for the collection, the date will be announced later by J. U. Morris, county extension agent. Possibly between August 8-15, when the pods are ripe for picking. Ernest W. Baker is chairman of a group of men who will furnish transportation for the Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts to the point assigned given groups for the picking of the milkweed pods.

Photographs taken at the Day Camp are now in the office and orders will be taken there. The orders must be placed at one time with the photographer, so the office will act as a clearing house. Please come in to see the photographs and place your order before August 19.

Sedalia lodge, No. 236, A. F. & A. M., will meet in stated communication Friday, Aug. 3rd at 8:00 p. m. All Master Masons invited.

"When Senator Clark sounds the bugle call for a fight to the finish on what he refers to as the issue of the CIO he proposes a private war which would weaken national unity in our country's war against the Axis.

Doesn't Understand Clark

"It is hard to understand Clark's contention that what he calls the genuinely Democratic rural counties of Missouri gave him their support when the total vote outside of St. Louis and Kansas City shows McKittrick well in the lead and latest figures show McKittrick carrying most of the rural counties. This looks like an attempt to create suspicion between the city and the countryside in our state. Particularly to sow suspicion between natural friends, labor and the farmer.

"In view of the decision at the polls, Clark might better serve President Roosevelt, to whom he recently pledged support, not by engaging in irresponsible attacks, but by working for a victory for his party's nominees in November."

Four Injured As Trains Collide

POLO, Mo., Aug. 3 — (AP) — A Rock Island diesel-powered freight and a Milwaukee motor train collided four miles west of here Wednesday injuring three women and a child, railroad officials said.

The Milwaukee, comprised of the engine and one day coach, came to a stop on the main line and the Rock Island freight train struck the coach of the Milwaukee, according to station officials. The passengers were in the day coach. The cause of the collision was not disclosed immediately.

The injured included Mrs. Engene Blake of High Island, Tex., near Galveston, who suffered leg and arm injuries, and her small daughter, who received lacerations. Names of the other two were not learned immediately. Mrs. Blake and daughter were on the way to Ottumwa from their home in Texas.

DAILY WASHINGTON

merry-go-round

by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3— War department officials are much concerned over the way the Germans have been treating American prisoners. Reports from exchanged American prisoners reveal the conditions in German war camps unspeakably bad. One prisoner, recently returned from Oflag Camp No. 64 in occupied Poland, reports that the diet given American prisoners is as follows:

Breakfast — Nothing (served with water if you want it).

Lunch — A bowl of thin soup and one slice of black bread (occasionally mouldy and invariably stale).

Supper — Two potatoes.

These reports disclose that, if it were not for the food packages supplied every week or ten days by the Red Cross, prisoners could not live. As it is, most are reported suffering from malnutrition.

One American prisoner, trying to describe conditions through the Nazi censor, wrote on a post card: "Food is plentiful and good. They treat us fine. We have no complaints. Everybody is happy. Do not forget to tell this to Sweeney."

While American boys are living on potatoes and water, German war prisoners in the USA are accorded the best of treatment, minimum of work, good clothing, food and shelter. They are even permitted their own camp newspapers, are generally accorded entertainment and almost luxurious treatment.

Note — German relatives of American citizens used to evade censorship by letters similar to that of the U. S. war prisoner. One such letter said: "Everybody is very well over here now. Anna is well, Esther is well and so is Joseph, but Grandmother is happiest of all." Grandmother had been dead for five years.

Heavy Artillery Comes Back

Uncensored dispatches from the Russian front reveal that one big reason for the current Red Army success is the Russian ability to mass all types of artillery in unprecedented quantity before every major offensive.

The Red army is a carefully tailored organization, never unduly excited about new weapons of war. Each Red army division is well equipped with a balanced number of tanks, planes and heavy guns. Never, throughout the entire course of the war, has production of any type of weapon been cut down in favor of others, as we sometimes have stopped tanks and artillery in favor of airplanes.

In the early days of the war, when "victory through air power" was so popular, the Russians continued building planes, but also continued strong emphasis on artillery.

Meanwhile the British and American high commands put such stress on air power that they slighted heavy guns and tanks. Artillery production was never great. Tank production has been sporadic. Now, air power is not nearly as effective in Normandy as had been hoped. Air corps officials blame it on the weather. However, artillery men point out that their big guns are never silenced by the elements, are more accurate in close-range warfare than anything else invented.

Fact is, air power has very definite uses, but only in relationship to ground forces. One of the major myths now being exploded in France is the theory of "deadly accurate precision bombing.' While air corps publicists show numerous reconnaissance photos to prove the accuracy of precision bombing, they don't show the many pictures of bombs going wide of their mark by many miles.

For example, one unit sent out to bomb Germany dropped its entire bomb-load on a Swiss village more than thirty miles from its target. This is not an isolated case. Same thing has happened in France, Hungary, Rumania and Czechoslovakia.

Result is the war department now has a hurry call in for vastly increased orders of artillery, forcing war plants to work round the clock to catch up with the demand for big guns.

CIO and Democratic Party

CIO officials came away from the Chicago Democratic convention determined to strip Boss of the Bronx Ed Flynn of some of his power over the Democratic party in New York state.

Fact is the CIO was seriously hampered in its efforts to negotiate with New York State delegation to the Democratic convention because they have few members inside the Democratic party. Most of New York's CIO members belong to the American Labor party controlled by Sidney Hillman. Although this group polled about 400,000 votes in recent New York elections, it has less bargaining power in Democratic councils than its voting strength would indicate.

Therefore, the Hillman brain-trustees are working on a new plan to secure more power inside the Democratic party. They propose to dissolve the Labor party after the first of the year and start mass entry of Labor party members into the Democratic organization.

Labor party members would then be elected as Democratic ward leaders, county committeemen, members of state executive committees, ultimately as delegates to future Democratic conventions.

Censorship of Soldiers' Reading

It is ultra unusual to find a senator complaining because an executive agency follows a law which he himself has written. Yet that is the position of Ohio's Senator Bob Taft as a result of the soldiers' vote law, which makes it a prison offense for officers of the armed forces to permit official distribution of propaganda material which might affect an election.

Bob Taft was responsible for this section of the law. The bill became law without the signature of the president.

Because the army has tried to follow it scrupulously, it has been placed in the ridiculous position of banning Charles Beard's book "The Republic," even though it is permissible to distribute copies of Life Magazine containing a resume of the same book. This is because the law makes an exception of magazines and newspapers, permitting their distribution to Army camps.

While the rest of the soldier-vote act is only a temprary measure for the duration of this war, it happens that title 5, the section now causing all the trouble, is a permanent addition to the law of the land. Unless altered by congress, it will mean permanent control over reading material for soldiers in and out of the country, in peace or war.

Note: — Senators Theodore Green of Rhode Island and Scott Lucas of Illinois are now urging new legislation whereby the American doughboy can read any book or literature available to the American civilian.

The Sedalia Federation of Labor at its meeting last night decided to celebrate Labor Day, which falls this year on Monday, September 5. The committee of arrangements will consist of one member from each of the local unions. The committee, which will meet next Monday night at J. D. Meyer's cigar factory, No. 208 South Lamine avenue, will have full charge of arranging for the celebration.

Hon. John R. Bothwell, Mayor Babcock and others will be in St. Louis Saturday to meet with the Republican state committee with a view to having them open their state campaign at the State Fair grounds Wednesday, August 17.

W. A. Vaughn, editor of the Elks' Horn, St. Louis, met with Sedalia lodge, No. 125, B. P. O. Elks last night and laid before the members a proposition for the purchase of the Sweet Springs grounds, on which he has an option, with a view to establishing an international sanitarium.

The funeral of Al Nelson, the colored midget, was held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon from Taylor's chapel, and the interment was in the colored cemetery.

CHAT WITH YVONNE

XVI

THOUGH Ahmed obviously liked and esteemed Dr. Merrill, he gave full credit for his speedy recovery only to Allah, his God. Inch Allah was a sort of exclamation point after all his not too frequent sentences. Inch Allah: If God wills it.

"Why don't you believe that I respect your religion?" George asked the day before Ahmed left. "I truly do, and I feel sorry that I am misunderstood."

"Our religion is intolerant of European religions," Ahmed replied. "How could yours be tolerant of ours?"

"We are not Europeans. We are Americans!"

"Well, your religion is like European religion. It's all the same to us."

"Then, why do you trust our General Staff?"

"That's politics! Politics exist and religion exists! The same as Hell exists and Heaven exists."

"Why don't you like the French government any more?"

"The French became weak and unjust," Ahmed said rather reluctantly. "After the war we will have big changes over here."

"Do you mean self-government?"

"I don't know, and if I did I couldn't discuss it. But big changes, somehow."

The finality in his tone discouraged further conversation. It was evident that Ahmed felt he had committed himself too much already.

One week after his operation he left in a command car and was brought home for final recovery to his father's house, which in summer was a palatial home, and in winter a desert tent.

ON one of my rounds I had a chat with Yvonne who sat moodily on a chair next to the bedside of an unconscious soldier and complained about the waste of time.

"He is in a coma and rather dull. I wonder why I am condemned to watch him?"

"Because Dr. Merrill trusts you more than the rest of us."

"Do you really think so?"

"Of course, Yvonne; it's an honor and not a condemnation."

Her face suddenly glowed with happiness. "You really mean it, Chary? Do you know how good it is to hear you say that? One has so many doubts. See, he knows I love him. I told him so, remember? And he must feel it, too. But he remains calm and composed and never says the slightest word that might be encouraging. Sometimes he smiles at me, his whole being smiles and I feel it over and over. But that's all!"

"A smile is a great deal, Yvonne. Nobody has such a smile for me. No other girl here has such a smile all for herself. You only realize how much a smile can mean when you have lost it."

Like all fanatic lovers, she has no ear for anyone else. She is convinced that she is the first truly loving girl in the world and behaves as if she had patented the secret.

"But dear, it's all so different with me, you see. Nobody can understand how I feel! It is as if he were a missionary and I his new convert. Formerly I was a sinner, now I am a saint. But, I need a word of recognition from my missionary. Shouldn't he give it? Words are made to be spoken, aren't they?"

"That's a bad simile, Yvonne. Similes rarely do justice to reality. He is just as much a new convert as you are. He, a man of work, suddenly has to face a new problem—love. It takes time till he adjusts his whole personality to such a revolutionary fact. Men are always slower than women. You should know that from experience."

"I don't expect miracles," she said with the stubbornness of a child who doesn't want to grow up. "A nice word from time to time, or his hand . . . it would mean so much . . ." She broke off suddenly, as this very moment the door opened and Dr. Merrill came in.

BLUSHING like a trapped thief, Yvonne reported about her uneventful morning. "Is there anything I should do?" she questioned.

"No, just watch and wait. What temperature?"

"One hundred four and two-tenths degrees."

"No benzidrine this time," Dr. Merrill teased, flashing me a cryptic smile

"What does that mean?" asked Yvonne with quickly aroused suspicion.

"Just a joke." He gave me another smile of secret understanding, and nodding at Yvonne left the room with long sure strides.

Yvonne gazed after him, and her eyes tried to follow him beyond the closed door. "I love the way he walks," she said. "I love the way he lights a cigaret. I love the way he holds the knife. I love the way he buttons his coat. I cannot bear, Charlotte, that you know something about him I do not know! Tell me this benzidrine story."

"Silly!" I said. "It was just a suggestion I once made."

"Honest to goodness?" she asked.

"Of course, apprehensive," I said, ready to go.

"Come in again on your next round, Charlotte," she implored. "It is somehow comforting to have you around. You seem so detached."

Women's Army Winning In Waste Fats Drive

The need for more and more waste fats and greases to power the final invasion drive is meeting prompt response from housewives in this area. Shipments are far ahead of last year, according to officials of the Standard Rendering Company, area collectors, who give the women full credit for meeting the emergency.

This extra volume of greases and fats is needed now more than ever before, the collectors say, to provide more glycerin for explosives, mechanical equipment and medical supplies. Continued regular contributions will maintain the necessary stocks on hand.

Housewives may sell their accumulations to meat dealers for cash and points. Dealers in this locality can ship direct, express collect, or call for truck pickup. Address Standard Rendering Company, 635 Adams, Kansas City, Kansas, or phone HArrison 1545, Kansas City.—Adv.

Changes in Tire Ration

Shortage of Large Size Tires Is Critical

Effective midnight, July 30th, Amendment 83 to Ration Order 1A made the following changes due to the critical shortage of large size truck tires:

1. Certificates for truck tires—both new and used—825x20 and larger dated prior to July 16th, 1944, are invalid for transfer to consumer or replenishment by dealers and manufacturers.

(a) Consumer must return certificates to issuing local board.

(b) Dealer must forward to OPA District Office all replenishment portions whether or not a tire was transferred and all certificates and parts thereof on which no tire was transferred.

2. Replenishment on Truck Tire and Tractor-Implement Tire Certificates and Receipts changed as follows:

Certificate calling for 750 or smaller truck tire, replenish with 750 or smaller truck or small tractor-implement tire.

825 or larger truck tire, with 825 or larger truck tire.

Small tractor-implement tire, with small tractor-implement or grade III tire.

Large tractor-implement tire, with any tractor-implement or grade III tire.

Truck tire without size designation (on OPA Form R-12 only) with 750 or smaller truck or small tractor-implement tire.

3. All dealers must take a separate inventory of new and used truck tires in sizes 825x20 and larger as of close of business July 29, 1944, and keep a separate record of any such tires in transit to him on that date received after July 29, 1944.

TAKE ADVANTAGE of Used Car Price Ceiling Regulations!
8 important reasons why you should sell your car to us—

1 You don't have to spend money putting your car "in shape" to sell it. We buy it "as is."

2 We'll pay you the highest prevailing price—not a dime is subtracted. You get all of it.

3 You get cash for your car immediately. No partial payments. No notes.

4 You can sell your car and forget it. No comeback on you for repairs.

5 No advertising expense. No appointments or price haggling

7 No. O.P.A. violations involved because you "didn't know" price ceiling regulations.

8 You'll get a square deal all 'round because we want your friendship.

If you don't need your car—Sell it—We pay highest prices!

Max Lanier of the St. Louis Cardinals reigned as strikeout king of the majors today with a total of 104 victims boosting him past Bill Voiselle of the New York Giants and Tex Hughson of the Boston Red Sox.

The pudgy lefthander threw the third strike past seven Pittsburgh hitters last night as the Cards hammered out an 8-4 verdict to up their road trip win record to 15-3 with three to go before reaching Sportsman's Park.

Lanier's total of 104 strikeouts topped by three Voiselle's bag and was five more than Hughson required to pace the American league, where Hal Newhouser of Detroit was his closest competitor.

The largest night crowd of the year at Forbes Field, 27,481, watched the Cards take Rip Sewell for six runs and seven hits before the blooper ball tosser yielded for a pinch hitter. It was Sewell's fourth straight beating by the Cards.

If the Cards can break even in their remaining 58 games, second place Cincinnati could grab the flag only by winning 46 of 58, a gait some 200 points above their 1944 pace.

With Lanier, Mort Cooper, Harry Brecheen and Ted Wilks working smoothly as the Big 4, there was little doubt that the Red Birds would hit the 100-win mark with plenty to spare.

As St. Louis snuffed out Pittsburgh's smouldering hopes at the start of a long home stand, the American league pennant race marked time.

Chicago split a doubleheader with Philadelphia in the only action scheduled in the junior loop.

The Mackmen pulled the opener out of the fire, 9-3, on a 7-run ninth inning in which a triple by Bobby Estalella and doubles by Joe Burns and Hal Epps were the big blows. Lum Harris popped up with his ninth win although nipped for 13 hits as his mates clubbed Ed Lopat for 12 blows and his seventh loss.

Gordy Maltzberger saved Johnny Humphries' fifth win in the finale by stopping a Philadelphia threat as Chicago took a 7-3 edge. Tony Cuccinello enjoyed a perfect game with four singles.

A Chicago-Philly game was postponed because of the Philadelphia transportation strike and all other leagues enjoyed an open date.

Sports Roundup

By Fritz Howell

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—(AP)—With the Brooklyn Dodgers taking two of a six-game series with the Cardinals, and the St. Louis Browns out front in the American pennant race, the impression is growing that anything can happen in baseball.

We, however, are reserving opinion on the "anything can happen" angle until Ernie Lombardi leads the league in stolen bases.

Baseball Quiz

No. 1—What pitcher won three double headers in one season?

No. 2—What pitchers struck out seven men in two consecutive innings. (Answers at end of column.)

This and That

Louisville Charley Jones, who has a string of race horses, says there are 99 ways the best horse can lose a race (our selections use 'em, too.) . . . Lt. (JG) Jack McGinley, former drum-beater for the Pittsburgh Steelers, came home on a 30-day furlough but didn't tell the home folks he had been cited for bravery in the Tunisian campaign and that he'd been awarded the Purple Heart. . . . Still can't figure out why Steve Brodie jumped off the Brooklyn Bridge — the Dodgers couldn't have been that bad away back then, too . . . The "oldest race track in America" at Annapolis, where George Washington reputedly lost four pounds (English cash, not weight by making some wrong guesses, will be revived for a running-harness meeting Labor day . . . Rip Sewell of the Pirates says he wishes some of the great sluggers like Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig and Joe DiMaggio were still around so he could tease 'em with that blooper ball . . . Rev. Rice Is Lions Club Speaker

Rev. Hallie Rice, pastor of the East Sedalia Baptist church, was the speaker at the Lions club meeting held Wednesday at the St. Francis hotel.

Taking for his subject "Good Citizenship and Patriotism," the speaker said: "We are living under a weight of fear today and it takes courage. Those with deep faith are able to face things easier." Mr. Rice went on to say that the hope of the world would not lie in armament but in the hearts of the people, and so long as a nation is against God that nation will slip.

Mr. Rice said that Christ believed that all men should be good citizens and he along with his country men, paid taxes.

Roy Conn served as program chairman and Noel Tweet, president, presided over the business meeting.

McNair Killed By U. S. Bomb

General In The Ground Forces Victim In France

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3—(AP)—The explosion of a bomb dropped short of its target by an American plane killed Lt. Gen. Lesley J. McNair, former commander of army ground forces.

"A full investigation," the war department announced Wednesday "developed the fact General McNair died as a result of the explosion of one of our own bombs which fell short in the intensive aerial bombardment of enemy lines just preparatory to the present large scale American breakthrough in Normandy."

The general's death was announced last week by the department, but it was attributed then to enemy fire. The more recent information, reported by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, also disclosed for the first time the date of his death — July 25.

An undisclosed number of casualties occurred when about 50 American planes, including both heavy and medium bombers, released their bombs prematurely during an attack on the German lines west of St. Lo by between 2,500 and 3,000 planes from the combined striking force of the U. S. 8th and 9th air forces.

Maj. Gen. Lewis H. Brereton, commanding the 9th air force, said the bombardiers found their target points obscured by previous explosions. The bombs fell among forward infantry elements waiting to follow up the bombardment. McNair was up front with the soldiers as an observer.

Bede Irvin, Associated Press photographer, also was killed by the prematurely released bombs.

Exchange Girl For Prisoners

ROME, Aug. 3 — (AP) — Ursula Von Langen, 22-year--old daughter of the Nazi Oberfuehrer of northern Italy, was kidnaped by patriots in Turin two weeks ago and released three days later in exchange for five Italian prisoners, the youth who kidnaped her told Wednesday night.

The leader of the kidnaping party, who is known as "Franco Franchi," said the Nazis brought 2,000 police from Milan in a fruitless search for the daughter of Baron Dirk Von Largen, highest German civilian authority in northern Italy, while partisans arranged the exchange.

The girl was held in a house in the Turin suburbs and delivered to the church at Santa Rita Da Cascia on midnight, July 16, after partisans obtained the release of the prisoners, four women and a man, Franchi said.

Franchi, a former cavalry officer, said he and four other men dressed as civilians seized the girl in her finance's house June 13 almost under the nose of a German sentry.

Vistula Is Crossed By Russians

Warsaw Is Flanked By Men And Tanks Of Soviet Forces

By W. W. HERCHER

LONDON, Friday, Aug. 4—(AP)—Red army troops shattered the Axis Vistula river line in Poland yesterday, smashing 15 miles beyond that last natural defense barrier short of the "Holy Soil" of Germany in a broad flow of men and tanks that flanked burning Warsaw and sped toward German Silesia, only 100 miles away.

The Vistula, which a desperate enemy had attempted to hold with reinforcements sent from central Europe an reservoirs, was crossed 110 miles south of besieged Warsaw on a front nearly 19 miles wide between Koprzywnica and Polaniec.

German broadcasts also said that another strong bridgehead was established on the west bank near Warka, only 30 miles southeast of Warsaw, where Polish patriots were fighting the Germans in the streets, but Moscow did not confirm that enemy announcement.

The west bank towns of Koprzywnica and Polaniec fell to the Russians, a Moscow communique said, along with Stasboqn 27 miles west of the swift-flowing Vistula. By seizing Polaniec the Russians were only 60 miles northeast of Krakow, Poland's fifth largest city. With the capture of Staszow they were only 30 miles southeast of the German stronghold of Kielce.

More than 50 localities fell in this swift Russian strike which apparently was delivered by the upper wing of Marshal Ivan S. Konev's first Ukraine army. The Moscow bulletin did not mention the Warsaw area, where Marshal Konstantin K. Rokossovsky's first White Russian armies are engaged in a bitter fight with the Germans just east of the city.

Russian troops were reported even nearer ancient German soil in western Lithuania, attacking toward East Prussia on a broad front. Moscow dispatches said these units were only three miles from East Prussia, fighting near Virbalis and Wizainy and preparing to leap the border. The Soviet bulletin said 200 more localities had been taken by the Russians west and northwest of Kaunas, fallen former Lithuanian capital.

Take Near 500 Towns

A total of nearly 500 towns and villages were captured by the Russians on all fronts during the day, Moscow said. These included 30 west of Rezekne in eastern Latvia, where powerful Soviet armies were hurling the Germans back toward the Gulf of Riga after other Russian units had cut their landward escape routes by seizing points along the gulf.

Two hundred localities were taken by Marshal Konev's troops west and southwest of Jaroslaw, including Sanck, 37 miles southwest of Jaroslaw and only 19 miles from the Czechoslovak frontier.

The Germans earlier had acknowledged a Russian crossing of the Vistula and a penetration as far as Staszon. Both Konev's and Rokossovsky's troops are equipped with thousands of American-made amphibious trucks and other rolling stock.

Guard For Five Presidents Dies

NEW YORK, Aug. 4—(AP)—Col. Edmund W. Starling, 69, retired head of the White House detail of the U. S. secret service, died Thursday at St. Luke's hospital where he had been under treatment for pneumonia since July 14. He had guarded five presidents.

He died at 4:30 p. m., eastern war time.

Col. Starling retired last November. After leaving his post in Washington he and his wife made their home in Miami Beach., Fla. Starling was charged with protecting the lives of five presidents—Woodrow Wilson and Franklin D. Roosevelt during upset and nervous periods of war, and Warren G. Harding, Calvin Coolidge and Herbert Hoover. During the 25 years he was a member of the White House detail, not a single assassination attempt was directed at the president, although many were nipped in the bud.

"It is mostly—I would say 100 percent—preventive work," Starling said before his retirement.

Strikers In Philadelphia To Jobs Today

Workers On Trams Respond After Seizure

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 4.—(AP)—(Friday)—An apparent misunderstanding over settlement of the racial issue involved in Philadelphia's transportation tie-up raised the possibility early today that walkout participants would reverse their decision to return to work on government-seized trolleys, buses and subway trains.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Philadelphia transportation company workers whose three-day walkout has slashed war production voted tonight, a few hours after the federal government seized the system, to obey an army appeal that they return to work tomorrow morning at 5 o'clock.

The workers' decision was announced by James McMenamin, chairman of their "general emergency committee," following a mass meeting at a car barn already taken over by the army.

Earlier, more than 4,000 workers present cheered when army officers posted a notice at the barn announcing the seizure, and saluted as the flag of the United States was raised over the premises.

The work stoppage kept 6,000 employes idle and immobilized every trolly, bus, subway and elevated train in this city, classed by the War Manpower Commission as the nation's second war production center.

Trainees On Probation

Upgrading of eight Negro employes precipitated the walkout. McMenamin told tonight's mass meeting that "the government is taking over the property as of today and there are no Negro operators. Trainees are on probation. We have won."

Later he asked all the employes to sign a "power of attorney" giving the committee authority to represent them" on this issue (employment of Negro operators) only."

The eight Negroes, who had been employed by the company in other capacities, were about to begin training as motormen when the work stoppage began.

The company, which did not comment on McMenamin's account of the Negroes' status, said vehicles would be [illegible] men to run.

Mayor Bernard [illegible] nounced that 4,000 policemen would be on emergency duty when the wheels were scheduled to turn again. Samuel added that tap rooms and liquor stores would remain closed until the danger of recurrent disorders had passed.

President Roosevelt, to whom the dispute was referred yesterday by the war board, directed Secretary of War Stimson to take over the PTC system and run it "for purposes connected with the

Simultaneously with Truman's action, Hugh Fulton turned in his resignation as chief counsel of the group.

Says 'Disaster' Is Courted By The New Deal

GOP Governors Discuss Post-War Problems In Parley

By DOUGLAS CORNELL

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Republican governors before the end of a politically significant conference here tonight took new swings at the Roosevelt administration and broke out in a rash of predictions of election victories in state after state.

They completed three more items of a 14-point declaration of principles, leaving five to go.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, the presidential nominee, who is leading the meeting, said a statement of general conclusions also was nearing approval. But it and the five remaining points will be released tomorrow morning.

A report on agriculture assailed "impractical and whimiscal restraints" which the governors said now hampers production and creates confusion. They declared there was a "federal responsibility to assure its economic stability and equality with labor and business."

"Abundant production, necessary to national prosperity, can be attained only under a free agriculture," the report asserted.

Demanding return of public employment services to the states, the governors said this should be done as soon as is consistent with the best interests of those seeking work and with conclusion of the war effort, since the services have been used by the new deal to "extend its political control over labor."

"Operation of our public employment offices by the states," the governors asserted, "will prevent the regimentation of labor which now is a major objective of the new deal."

They said, too, that exclusive power to regulate and control the insurance business should be preserved in the states where it belongs.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Twenty-six Republican governors, under the leadership of presidential nominee Thomas E. Dewey, produced a campaign dossier today charging the new deal with courting "national disaster" in reconversion of war-time industry.

In an acidly worded indictment, they also accused the present federal government of "threatening seriously the very existence of many of our states," by the acquisition of public and private lands.

Inviting national disaster when either the Pacific or European war ends, the governors said, the new deal has displayed "negligence, and lack of leadership" in the field of reconversion and post-war jobs.

"The national administration," the state chiefs declared, "is now standing squarely in the path of the future employment of our returning veterans and millions of displaced war workers.

"Comprehensive and immediate action by the federal government is imperative to provide for prompt contract termination and plant clearance. Facilities for the resumption of peacetime production must be released and the way cleared instantly as war demands come to an end."

From an after-midnight session at which they quaffed milk to keep up their stamina, the governors brought out a fractional six-four-teenths of a document that had the appearance of another party platform erected alongside the one adopted at the Republican national convention.

Work On Policy

They huddled again this morning to work on the remainder of their 14-point declaration of policy [illegible] way for adjournment, [illegible] Governor Dewey of New York for talks tomorrow with Missouri politicians and leaders of labor, business, agriculture and other groups.

And, underscoring the political aspects of the gubernatorial get-together, some of them took time out for lengthy individual conversations with national Republican Chairman Herbert Brownell,

Jungle Fighters Throw Back Foe In Aitape Area

By MURLIN SPENCER

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Friday, Aug. 4—(AP)—Veteran American jungle fighters have thrown back four more Japanese suicide attacks in the Aitape area of British New Guinea, after 11 hours of fierce fighting which left the battlefield littered with enemy dead, headquarters announced today.

In desperate attempts to break the American ring, the Japanese Wednesday hurled wave after wave of men in the Afua sector, on the left flank of the Driniumor line, some 17 miles east of Aitape. Afua is a few miles inland.

The Americans buried 602 additional enemy dead and the entire battle area was dotted with abandoned and uncounted Japanese bodies.

A total of 3,870 Nipponese dead have been counted in the jungle battle zone since elements of the trapped 18th Imperial army began their attempts to break encirclement July 12. Unquestionably, there are many more.

In that time the Japanese have made more than half a dozen major assaults and numerous probing forays, searching for a weak point.

Type of Suicidal Gamble

The Japanese appeared to be shooting the works in Wednesday's attacks. It was still too early to interpret their intentions, but the last enemy action on Bougainville was this same type of suicidal gamble to break through.

The Japanese pushed up 75-millimeter mountain guns, apparently carried forward on their backs, and opened fire almost from point-blank range. They laid down strong barrages of mortar and machine gun fire across the narrow front.

Then they pushed forward in a typical "banzai" charge. The American troops, who had encountered these assaults before, sat tight until the Japanese were within close range. Then they opened up with everything they had.

Enemy attacks from the southeast and southwest of the Afua flank were stopped dead. When the action ended, the uncounted dead lay huddled where they fell before American positions.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's communique reported medium and light bombers were continuing the "daily destruction of enemy rear areas."

On the Sansapor beach at the tip of New Guinea, some 760 miles westward, 92 Japanese surrendered in a group Wednesday, the largest enmasse capituation in the southwest Pacific area. No fighting has developed on this valuable beachhead.

A 1,000-ton Japanese freighter was sunk and a destroyer damaged with a direct hit near Ceram Wednesday.

His Fuehrer's Face

Hitler's recent order for the Army to use the Nazi salute hasn't inspired much respect for Der Fuehrer, judging by the German war prisoner pictured above. With a piece of cloth for a mustache, he has no qualms about burlesquing Hitler for the amusement of his Yank guard at left.

U. S. Troops Sweep On Headed For Paris

Advance By Americans On Guam Made

Reconquerers Are Well Into Upper Third Of Island

By CHARLES H. McMURTRY

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, Aug. 3—(AP)—A two-mile advance Wednesday by American troops on Guam, made against increasing Japanese resistance and over rough, wooded terrain, was reported today by Adm. Chester W. Nimitz.

This placed the reconquerors of Guam well into the upper third of the island, southernmost of the Marianas group. It gave them control of an important road junction, north of a ridge that extended nearly across the island.

The hard-driving Yanks were advancing with the continuing support of carrier-based aircraft.

Civilian To Protection

Enemy dead, through August 2, totaled 7,893 and civilians who sought the protection of American lines numbered 7,000. Many of the civilians were Guamians who presumably would help to rebuild airfields and construct barracks and other installations.

Nimitz reported that the American flag was raised formally over Tinian Island, 125 miles north of Guam, yesterday. Scattered remnants of the garrison of that conquered island were being flushed out of caves and dougouts.

Enemy dead on the island were estimated officially at 5,000. About 4,000 civilians had been interned.

An attack on Ponape, in the Caroline Islands, and neutralizing raids in the Marshall Islands also were reported.

A northward advance Tuesday of more than a mile along the entire island-wide front won Tiyan airfield, at the southern base of a ridge extending nearly across Guam.

Beyond the ridge, a wooded plateau projects for more than ten miles to the northern end of the island. War correspondents have reported the area, although thickly wooded, is suitable for airfield development.

Tiyan field, was believed to be a small fighter strip.

Six other airfields are in American hands in the Marianas, some of which can be used for Superfortress raids on Japan. They are the Orote peninsula field on Guam the two Ushi Point fields and Gurguan field on Tonian Island, 125 miles north of Guam, and the Isely and Marpi Point fields on Saipan, near Tinian.

In the southwest Pacific, too, the Japanese were losing heavily in vain efforts to break from entrapment in the Eweak-Aitape area of British New Guinea. Two more attacks have been repulsed, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced in his Thursday communique.

Nazis Prepare Withdrawal At Florence

Departure Is Being Speeded By New Zealanders

By NOLAND NORGAARD

ROME, Aug. 3.—(AP)—German troops are pulling back behind the Greve river preparatory to a withdrawal from Florence and advance units of the British Eighth army already have stabbed within three miles of the historic city, field dispatches said tonight.

Loosening up of German defenses became apparent overnight and it was believed the enemy would pull into a tight pocket behind the Greve where it flows below the southwestern edge of the city, in an attempt to hold until Nazi troops can be moved through Florence, Associated Press Correspondent Lynn Heinzerling wrote from the front.

On the other end of the Italian front the enemy showed determination to make a desperate stand along the Arno river and on both sides of the besieged city of Pisa strong German patrols of up to 200 men slashed into American positions on the south bank of the river, other field dispatches said.

Heinzerling, who is with the Eighth army, said New Zealand troops were firmly established on the last commanding ridge south of Florence and that the enemy was steadily withdrawing from all sectors below the city.

Hasten Departure

Their departure was being hastened by columns of dust-covered Sherman tanks, Heinzerling wrote, and advance units already had probed German strength less than three miles south of Florence.

German defenses began giving away during the night and by morning it was observed that the enemy definitely was pulling out.

Advances up to three miles were made on the extreme right of the Eighth army front and south African troop swere moving forward almost even with the New Zealanders.

All civilians have been cleared from the north bank of the Arno on both sides of Florence, which the Germans have declared to be an open city, or neutral territory.

(There was no confirmation of a broadcast German report that Allied artillery had shelled Florence. The Allies have not officially acknowledged Florence's status as an open city, but have refrained from bombing its rail yards since the fighting approached its outskirts.)

Fall From Window Fatal

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Aug. 3—(AP)—Mrs. James L. Murray, 51, of Garfield, Ark., died here today of injuries suffered in a fall from a window of a hospital where she was a patient. Leonard Walker, acting coroner, said she apparently had jumped during a fit of despondency.

After Fall Of Rennes Move Ahead For Brest And St. Nazaire

By JAMES M. LONG

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, Aug. 3—(AP)—A mighty tide of U. S. troops and armor swept up Brittany's capital and main rail city of Rennes today and rolled unchecked toward the prize ports of Brest and St. Naziare along roads littered with the wreckage of enemy tanks and vehicles.

The powerful force that brushed past resistance at Rennes pounded on south toward St. Nazaire, the Nazi U-boat base less than 60 miles away, after traveling 40 miles in 24 hours in the invasion's swiftest dash.

Another great force of triumphant Yanks headed straight west across the Breton peninsula toward Brest, and probably already was well past Dinan after breaking across the Rance river, 110 miles east of the second port of France where their fathers landed to fight the first World War.

Heading For Paris

Behind them, other forces methodically widened the corridor through which these forces were pouring into Brittany from Normandy, pushing 20 miles east of Avranches to Mortain on the road to Paris.

While making the American breakthrough into Brittany more secure, this force also was executing a broad outflanking movement against remaining enemy positions along the 150-mile front and was tightening the noose on six enemy divisions already in mad flight to the north.

This once-proud force of two enemy armored and four infantry divisions, which had held back the Allied advance east of Granville, was on the run before a four and one-half mile gap was closed below Vire, abandoning tanks and other heavy equipment.

Following up swiftly in a seven-mile advance from the southwest, American forces pushed to within a mile of St. Sever-Calvados, midway between Vire and Villedieu-Les-Poeles.

In a fruitless attempt to stall their pursuers, the Germans drove French civilians out into the highways in the path of the American advance, but the non-combatants were shunted off to temporary camps.

It appeared that the Germans, far from offering a threat to the Normandy-Brittany corridor, were pulling out of the whole salient between their fallen road centers of Mortain and Vire.

Report From Washington

The announcement of Rennes' fall came from Secretary of War Stimson in Washington and was in advance of information available to correspondents at supreme headquarters. Last reports had

Raid By Robots Eases Off

By TOM YARBROUGH

LONDON, Aug. 3.—(AP)—A 14-hour robot bomb attack on southern England and London—the longest and heaviest yet—eased off late today after a blanket of low clouds lifted from Dover Strait and gave anti-aircraft gunners better shooting at the missiles.

The gunners, including some Americans, were busy from midnight on and got many robots on the wing, but many got through. Just how many can best be told by the fact that 10 hospitals were hit. Ten patients were killed in one of them.

A bomb wrecked a big house only about 50 yards from a crowded shipping area, causing—in the permissible phrase—a "number of casualties." Ten bomb-damage repairmen were killed in their billets. Eight persons were killed when a group of small houses was wrecked.

In the midst of the record attack home secretary Herbert Morrison broke the cheerless news that the government had decided to continue the blackout.

In giving official figures on civilian air raid casualties from the beginning of the war through the first half of 1944, Morrison revealed that the robot bombs have been killing more persons than ordinary aerial bombs did at their worst.

Last night and today the robots came over in waves, with the intervals between waves shorter than before. In some areas one could hear a distinct "thump"—or something louder—every few minutes.

Three more students of Jack Funk, instructor of flying at the Sedalia Municipal Airport, have soloed the past week, bringing the total of those who have soloed to five. More interest in flying is being displayed by Sedalians each week, Mr. Funk reports.

Mattson, was stationed at the Sedalia Army Air Field from February until May 1, and has been overseas the past three months, now stationed in Italy.

Mrs. Mattson, in discussing her flying said her husband knew nothing of her plans to fly and she decided to take up flying, because, "after the war I'll have to learn anyway", she said. "I didn't tell my husband about taking lessons, and don't expect to pass the word along until I get my private pilot's license. I just don't want him to have to sweat it out over there," she concluded.

Here For Duration

Mrs. Mattson's home is in Detroit, Mich., and she said due to the many friends made here since coming to Sedalia, she decided to make this city her home for the duration, at least until Lieutenant Mattson returned from overseas duty. Give Prizes On Waste Paper

Boy Scouts Also Get Merit Award And Lapel Badges

Ernest W. Baker, chairman of the Pettis County Boy Scout Council, has announced that all Boy Scouts in this area will cooperate with Boy Scouts all over America in an intensive two-month nationwide waste paper collection drive, beginning August 1, and closing September 30. There are 1,500,000 Scouts, Cubs and leaders in the U. S.

Thousands of Boy Scouts have been active in waste paper salvage during the current campaign, but this new drive, designed to help offset an anticipated late summer slump in waste paper collections, was organized jointly by National Boy Scout Headquarters and the Salvage Division of WPB, following receipt of a letter from Donald M. Nelson, chairman of WPB, by Dr. Elbert K. Fretwell, chief Scout executive of the Boy Scouts of America in New York City. The Folding Paper Box Association of America is sponsoring the drive.

A specially prepared War Production Board Certificate of Merit, signed by Mr. Nelson will be presented to teach Scout Troop or Cub Pack that collects an average per boy of a thousand pounds of paper during the drive.

Special Lapel Badge

A special Boy Scout WPB lapel badge wil lbe awarded individually to all Scouts and Cubs who succeed in collecting a thousands pounds or more of waste paper in the two month period. The proceeds from the sale will go into troop funds for later purchase of camping and other equipment.

Mr. Baker has arranged with the salvage dealers in Sedalia to give the boys a credit slip for the amount they bring in each time that they may be eligible for the awards on September 30. The Sedalia and Pettis county troops will continue making weekly collections by troops but the next city wide collection similar to those that have been conducted in the past will be held September 17th.

Any Boy Scout who sells paper for his troop is requested to get his credit slip and turn it over to his Scoutmaster so that he and his troop will receive credit for same.

Waste paper is still our No. 1 war material shortage. Food and medical supplies, blood plasma, ammunition and every piece of machinery and equipment which our fighting men are using is packed in, made of, or protected by paper.

Give War Bonds And Stamps

Everyone in Pettis county is requested to save paper for the Boy Scouts and either call one of the Scoutmasters or save it in bundles to be placed on the curbstone for the next city wide collection on September 17th.

Mr. Baker also announced that prizes will be given in War Bonds and stamps to the troop that obtains the most paper during the two month drive. These prizes will be given on a prorated basis as to the number of boys in the troop.

The Pettis County Council will give a $25.00 War Bond as 1st. prize, $10 in war stamps for 2nd and $5 in war stamps as 3rd prize. Joe Cohen of the Cohen Salvage Co., will give a $50 war bond to the troop that gets the largest amount of pounds of waste paper.

Capt. Stewart In Audience With Pope

Treasures And Paintings Impress Allied Visitors

Mrs. Charles W. Stewart, Jr., the former Miss Dixie Van Doren, 702 South Kentucky avenue, has received a letter from her husband in which he tells of having an audience with Pope Pius XII. Capt. Stewart is a supply officer in the Troop Carrier Command of the Army Air Corps stationed in Italy.

Visits St. Peter's

The letters follows:

"I have had a trip to Rome and while there I went to St. Peters' Cathedral. I have never seen such a beautiful place. It is a huge place with a great stairway leading up to it. Inside there are about a dozen altars and two masses were being held at the same time. Saw the tomb of St. Peter which stands directly under the dome. The marble work and bronze work is beautiful.

Many Huge Paintings

Above the tomb is the dome with paintings by Michelangelo — part is done by him and some finished by someone else after his death. There are a great many large statues of different popes throughout the centuries. Each of the altars have huge paintings behind them done by some great artist. Along the walls are confessional booths where priests who speak different languages hear confessions. Above to the right rear of St. Peter's tomb is a balcony with a bronze gate and inside is a piece of the cross which is brought out only during Holy Week. We wandered about looking at these things for a time then found a guide who took us to see the treasury containing millions of dollars in gold and precious jewels, some thousands of years old, robes embroidered in solid gold thread among the robes which Charlemagne wore. We saw gold chalace encrusted with diamonds, emerald crosses, diamond crosses, gold crosses, gold candlabra, the largest pearl in the world, crosses set with amethyst, rubies, etc. We saw a cross about eighteen inches in heighth made of a single piece of crystal—things that made one's eyes bulge. I can't describe all the paintings we saw. It would take years and a much better vocabulary than I have.

Audience With Pope

Then came the big event of the day—we went to see the Pope. He has an audience every Sunday with soldiers of the Allies. We went up to his apartment, climbed hundreds of steps to an enormous hall with a golden throne at one end. The throne was on a red carpeted dais with a great red canopy behind it. We waited almost an hour and then a procession entered. Officers of the Swiss Guard in their medical costumes, then came the Pope in his sedan chair carried by six men dressed in scarlet pantaloons and scarlet coats. The Pope was dressed in his white vestments with a small white skull p. As he rode up the aisle he bowed each way and blessed men as he passed. They carried him to the dais and set him down, then he walked up and seated himself on the throne, motioning everyone to be seated. He spoke in English and French.

Blessing Most Impressive

He gave us his blessings, both for us and our loved ones at home, and then made a short talk reminding us to stay close to God, even though we are in the midst of war. He then arose and gave his blessing again, and that ended the ceremony. He stepped down spoke to several men standing close by and then left. It was most impressive.

"I am enclosing a picture of the Pope that was given us as we went in. Be sure and keep it for me as a souvenir of the most impressive sight I have ever seen. Even though I am not of Catholic faith, I experienced a great thrill, anyone would, as the Vatican and the Pope have a great power over the entire world and he has done so much for the world by using his influence on the German people to prevent them from despoiling the Holy City. I can't say I saw everything, but I shall never forget what I did see there."

Miss Florence Poteet Dies In Kansas City

Burial Here On Monday For "Frat" House Mother

Miss Florence Emma Poteet, 56 years old, house mother at the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity house at the University of Missouri since 1918, died of a heart ailment Saturday at St. Luke's hospital in Kansas City. In point of service she was the oldest house mother at the university.

She was a sister of Mrs. George C. Hoffman, 824 West Broadway, this city.

Following a heart attaack at the fraternity house April 28, Miss Poteet was taken to the home of a sister, Mrs. Hugh D. Muir, 5929 Brookside boulevard. She had been in the hospital three weeks

Fund In Appreciation

As the word of Miss Poteet's serious illness spread among the alumni, her friends of more than a quarter of a century established the Florence Poteet benefit committee to obtain a $5,000 fund to be given in war bonds to Miss Poteet in appreciation for her service. Two generations of Phi Gamma Deltas throughout the country have contributed a large part of this amount since the movement began July 4.

Typical of messages received by relatives in Kansas City from the fraternity men she guided through their university years is one from C. L. Brewer, professor of physical education at Columbia. "I think Miss Poteet has done more for the Phi Gamma Delta chapter here and for the boys individually making up the chapter from year to year than any other person anywhere," said Mr. Brewer, faculty adviser to the chapter there.

said street fighting still was raging in the city although advance elements had speared on to the south.

The weakness of the defense of such a strategic city as Rennes bore out indications that the Germans had only a few garrison divisions and the remnants of mauled divisions driven out of Normandy for a defense of the immense peninsula.

Allied air forces in rising force resumed their bridge blasting campaign to keep the sprawling Loire-Seine triangle sealed off and prevent the Germans from bringing up forces for a counterattack.

On the British front, where the Tommies seized Vire and drove on east, enemy resistance was stiffening, but he was under intense rocket fire from powerful British Typhoons.

These hard-hitting planes caught the German Ninth SS Panzer division in a road jam passing a line of lighter vehicles near Conde-Sur-Noireau and crippled the whole column.

Eisenhower To Front

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower made his tenth visit to the Allied battlefront, conferred with Generals Montgomery and Bradley and returned to England "all smiles."

It was announced for the first time that the British guards armored division, one of the most elite of the whole army, has been in action in Normandy and took part in the thrust southeast of Caen toward Vimont. Its present sector was undisclosed.

As the enemy defenses in Brittany wilted in the storm of fire, and as the British hammered out a 17-mile salient before the Germans braced below Caumont, one Allied officer declared: "If this isn't the blow-up, it certainly looks like a reasonable facsimile."

Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery soberly declared "we are hitting the Hun a good crack" and jokingly asked a roadside press conference: "When will the war end?"

With losses in prisoners rocketing toward the 100,000 mark, with confusion and indecision spreading, and with a thin garrison to oppose the armored American juggernaut in Brittany, the enemy admitted his position was critical.

The invasion's swiftest stroke, the capture of Rennes, came with dramatic abruptness after the doughboys swept 40 miles south of Avranches and fought into the outskirts.

Here at Rennes, one-third of the way across the base of Breton peninsula and with its network of roads and rails controlling virtually all the peninsula's communications, the enemy had been expected to put up a stern battle.

Front Appears Collapsing

The best unofficial estimate here was that the Breton peninsula might fall by the week-end, with nothing more than a desperate last-ditch defense of Brest, with the enemy organizing for a stand along the south bank of the Loire river, 60 miles or so south of Rennes.

The enemy's front appeared to be collapsing all the way to Caen, and another trap was forming for two Nazi armored divisions trying to hold back the storm northeast of Avranches.

Even the headquarters Field Marshal Gen. Guenther Von Kluge the Nazi who was supposed to succeed where the Prussian strategist, Field Marshal Gen. Karl Rudolf Gerd Von Rundstedt had failed, conceded that the situation was "critical."

While the enemy stubbornly resisted a Canadian thrust south of Caen, there were signs of growing confusion and uncertainty and some qualified observers said the Germans might be forced back to the Seine, which flows through Paris.

The Allied commanders were holding back details of the fighting to capitalize on the Germans' growing bewilderment, and it seemed likely that forward forces already were well beyond any announced points.

An American force striking east of Avranche seized St. Pois, 10 miles southwest of Vire, and drove north six miles trying to close the gap.

To the northeast, the German anchor of Villers-Bocage was tottering.

Strikers In Philadelphia To Jobs Today

war emergency as long as needful or desirable.'

Maj. Gen. Philip Hayes, commanding general, third service command, assumed control for the war department, and appealed for an immediate return to work. His appeal was echoed by the transport workers union (CIO), which opposed the work stoppage from the beginning.

Warn Of "Disaster"

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Secretary of War Stimson, announcing tonight that he had been authorized by the president to assume charge of the Philadelphia transit system, said:

"Those who have created this stoppage in Philadelphia have a grave responsibility. I am sure x x x that as loyal Americans they will immediately put their shoulders to the wheel and return to work. It is their solemn duty to do so."

Production Hampered

Gen. Hayes said in a statement that "production of radar equipment, heavy artillery, heavy trucks, incendiary bombs, flame throwers and many other critical items needed by our fighting men is being held up because of the inability of Philadelphia war workers to get to their factories and work benches.

"Our chances for speedy victory over the enemy are being lessened by this tie-up. Our troops x x x will have to pay the price in increased casualties unless this threat to production is removed immediately."

Hayes said he was counting on the 6,000 idle PTC employes "to do their duty to their country by reporting for work at their regular starting time, beginning tomorrow morning."

Philadelphians walked or hitchhiked to work again in a drizzling rain on the third day of the tie-up, which developed as a protest against the Philadelphia Transportation Company's upgrading of eight Negro employes to platform (operative) jobs.

Army and navy installations and many war plants sent trucks to bring in employes.

War plants generally reported production cut 5 to 25 per cent, depending upon the location of the plant and its number of workers.

Fights Subside

Fights between white men and Negroes subsided today after a day of outbreaks yesterday in which 13 persons were injured seriously enough to require hospitalization.

Negro gangs smashed windows of white-owned stores and whites and Negroes suffered beatings. More than 300 were arrested.

"This is worse than the Nazi way of fighting," Magistrate Hobson R. Reynolds, a Negro leader, told nine Negroes arraigned before him today.

"We've gone through worse things before and we will come out on top again if you will let the law take its course."

The War Manpower Commission several weeks ago ordered the transit company to upgrade Negroes. Both the company and employe groups protested.

Tuesday morning, at about the time the stoppage began, the first group of Negro operators was to have taken out cars on practice runs for the first time.

Says "Disaster" Is Courted By The New Deal

Jr., who is busily trying to enlist their oratorical assistance and to knot together state and national campaigns.

In addition to reconversion, the governors dealt tersely with public works, highways, national guard, veterans and public lands in the first installment of their policy pronouncement.

Some Of Plans

Noting that 50 to 80 per cent of the area of some western states is in federal ownership, the state chief executives declared:

"If, under the guise of conservation as advocated by the exponents of bureaucracy and federal control, this acquisition and encroachment program continues, we shall soon find ownership of our lands lodged in the federal government sufficient to threaten seriously the very existence of many of our states and the loss of local self-government to millions of free American citizens."

They proposed that the problem be solved by translating the Republican national platform into action. The platform proposed, among other things, acquisition of public lands for parks, wild life preserves and the like only after due study of local problems and under close controls established by congress.

Also proposed by the governors were:

The planning of public works now; and, when they are begun, federal grants in aid "without conditions which invade the authority of the state or local government."

Continued federal aid in building and maintaining highways.

A post-war national guard serving as a state force and reserve element in the army, whereas the new deal "would deprive the various states of the military forces essential to the safety of their people."

Translation of the veterans' "G. I. bill of rights" into a "program of action and not one solely on paper".

So they may get ready now for reconversion, the governors said, employers must be enabled to know federal policies promptly.

Surplus war supplies should be released through normal trade channels, they said, so as to prevent profiteering, monopoly or serious injury to resumption of peacetime production and distribution.

Statement by Bennett Clark On His Defeat

Greater St. Louis Chairman of CIO Has Sharp Reply

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 3—(AP)—Latest returns in Tuesday's primary:

Democratic senator: 4,390 of 4,519 precincts, Clark 147,755, McKittrick 168,605.

Republican senator: 4,095 of 4,519 precincts, Donnell 132,901; Grosby 2,756, Noell 13,928, Rendlen 18,799, Shaw 41,671, Stephens 60,633, Thomas 4,407.

Democratic governor: 4,264 of 4,519 precincts, Donnelly 141,628, Lee 19,918, Sermon 95,415, Shook 57,818.

Republican governor: 4,103 of 4,519 precincts, Bradshaw 133,716; Ferguson 116,470, Stewart 34,948.

Clark conceded his defeat late yesterday in a statement blaming the CIO political action committee.

The statement:

"I cheerfully accept the verdict of the polls. No man should ever offer himself for a political office unless he is prepared to stand on his record and accept defeat if it should come to him. . . . I have confidence that the long range view of the people of Missouri—when the hysteria of war has passed — will not be unfavorable to my record in the senate. I am perfectly willing to take a chance on the long pull so far as my reputation is concerned.

"The election represents a notable temporary triumph for the Communist controlled CIO in its efforts to take control of the Democratic party.

Fight Not Conclusive

"That fight, however, is not conclusive. It is just starting. I am very happy that I carried the bona fide Democratic counties of rural Missouri with whom I have been associated so long. The people of rural Missouri were alert—like the minute men of Revolutionary fame — to the menace of the CIO. It behooves the people of St. Louis and St. Louis county to become similarly minded."

"I am grateful to the people of Missouri for the opportunity of serving them in the senate of the United States in times of great stress for twelve long years."

Answering Clark, Richard Brazier, greater St. Louis chairman of CIO-PAC, said in a statement:

"In the bitter of defeat, Senator Clark has apparently tor noff the mask of support for President Roosevelt's progressive policies which he donned for the campaign. He reveals himself as a Missouri edition of Martin Dies, Burton K. Wheeler and Hamilton Fish.

No Personal Attack

"We made no personal attack on Clark during the campaign. It is regrettable that he should feel impelled to attack us. The American men and women who make up CIO, along with other Americans, will resent this malicious attempt to smear this organization.

"Of course the defeated candidate gives us too much credit. The political action committee was only one horse in the McKittrick team. Nor do we wish to take over the reins of any political party and we could not do so if we would.

"The Democratic nominee for senator in Missouri is Roy McKittrick because a majority of Missourians, voting in the Democratic primary, along with most Americans, are fed up with obstructionism. They want a senator who will lend a hand to President Roosevelt to win the war promptly, assure a lasting peace and carry out a postwar program for jobs, security and democracy.

"When Senator Clark sounds the bugle call for a fight to the finish on what he refers to as the issue of the CIO he proposes a private war which would weaken national unity in our country's war against the Axis.

Doesn't Understand Clark

"It is hard to understand Clark's contention that what he calls the genuinely Democratic rural counties of Missouri gave him their support when the total vote outside of St. Louis and Kansas City shows McKittrick well in the lead and latest figures show McKittrick carrying most of the rural counties. This looks like an attempt to create suspicion between the city and the countryside in our state. Particularly to sow suspicion between natural friends, labor and the farmer.

"In view of the decision at the polls, Clark might better serve President Roosevelt, to whom he recently pledged support, not by engaging in irresponsible attacks, but by working for a victory for his party's nominees in November."

Cardinals On For The Pennant

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 4— (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals rode merrily on toward their third straight National League pennant Thursday, increasing their lead to 16½ games by squelching the third place Pittsburgh Pirates, 15 to 2.

It was victory number ten for rookie Ted Wilks who has lost but one game. He gave up six safeties while his mates collected 18 off three Pirate moundsmen, Preacher Roe, Art Cuccurullo and Xavier Rescigno.

The game was a playoff of a 5-5 tie of June 25.

With the score 4-0, Danny Litwhiler came up in the Cards' fifth to smash a homer over the scoreboard for his ninth round-tripper of the season and drive in two more runs.

Jim Russell homered for the Pirates in the sixth with none on, and Marty Marion added another for the Cards in the seventh when his liner went between Vince Di Maggio and Johnny Barrett.

Cubs To Fourth Piace

NEW YORK, August 4 — (AP) — The Chicago Cubs moved into fourth place in the National League, their highest standing of the season, when they swept a double header from the Brooklyn Doders 6-2 and 7-1 Thursday, stretching their winning streak to nine in a row, their longest of the year.

White Sox Win Two

CHICAGO, Au. 4— (AP) — The Chicago White Sox continued their season-long superiority over Cleveland Indians Thursday by taking two low-hit games, 3 to 2 and 5 to 1, before 8,167. The twin victories made it 11 wins in 14 meetings with the Tribe this year and upped the Sox to a tie for fifth place, a half-game out of the first division.

Bill Dietrich, earning his 13th victory, and Orval Grove, getting his 11th with the help of Gordon Maltzberger, supplied the pitching that shaded Al Smith and Allie Reynolds, who were hampered by frequent outfield shortcomings.

Washington Holds To Championship

Washington defended its championship standing in the Community Softball league Thursday night by defeating an All-Star team composed of the best players of all the other league teams. The final score was 12-10.

Washington scored in all the runs up to the end of the sixth. Then with a two-point lead, it was not necessary for them to come to bats in the seventh, having lost the draw for first bats. The All-Stars scored five runs in the second, with all their players in the box.

Bill Dunlap, of Washington, was on base four out of five chances, and knocked two homers. The skills of their opponents were evenly keeled among all players.

Following is the line score:

Washington	311 321 x—12
All-Stars	051 000 4—10
